CHEERED BY THOUSANDS AS HE WENT DOWN TO DEFEAT ON HIS DRY APPEAL

BRYAN

By Associated Press Leased Wire

San Francisco, July 3.—White with fatigue, wet eyed with emotion, deafened by the roaring tribute of thousands, William Jennings Bryan last night stood before the convention at a new crossing in his quarter century of public life.

Silent, with sober eyes, his heavy figure in wrinkled blank alpaca under the merciless glare of the spotlights, he heard a sonorous chorus of "noes" one by one strike down the issues he had raised.

But there was no gainsaying the genuineness of the tribute he received even in defeat. It was given to him with an utter abandon, without aid of hand or pipe organ or other trappings of organized political demonstration. It sprang from the galleries, the voiceless multitude that made the moment its own and swept into tumult of its admiration for the man. But there were others who sat unmoved. They formed a solid block in the center of the floor about which the sea of sound and feeling raged unheeded, and even as Bryan grasped the Nebraska standard thrust up to him from below and lifted it high on the speaker's stand, it must have been given to a wisdom born of his long political career for the man, who was the center of the great scene, to know that it was admiration, not agreement that moved the people; that defeat, not victory awaited him.

Staked All On Dry Plank.

From the moment when reading of the platform was finished and he took the stand amid cries of "Bryan, Bryan, Bryan" to present the planks for ratification with reservations which he proposed. On this he flung defiance with the president at Jackson Day dinner in Washington to set going the struggle that ended yesterday in sweeping victory for the President. He paid lavish tribute to Mr. Wilson's place in history and to his leadership; he talked forcefully of three lesser issues he had brought to the convention for decision; but it was the dry plank on which he had staked every Northern depot in Chicago at 12:30 Chicago time, arriving in Dixon about 2 o'clock. The responses to the letters sent out indicate that about 300 Elks and their families will make the trip on the special train.

BADGES FOR MEMBERS.

The local lodge has had a very neat and appropriate badge designed for those attending from Dixon. These were received yesterday and will be distributed to the members on the train. Members who plan on driving to Chicago or going to the convention earlier than Wednesday, may secure one of the official badges upon application at the office of the secretary at the club building.

vestige of magnetic power over men's hearts he possessed.

Played On Emotions.

In the twenty minutes of dramatic appeal which closed his crusade, he reached new heights of fervor. His audience was swayed until it seemed he played upon its emotions at will. When he hurled his last defiance at the liquor traffic with a prediction that when the veil was torn aside, when the women of the nation were given full political liberty through the ratification of the suffrage amendment by another state, they and the children would be found battling for the cause he championed, a great shout went surging up into the vaulted dome of the roof in an endless sea of sound. It urged into action a Texas delegate who pulled the state standard from the floor and drove through the aisle to the platform. A score of state standards joined to form a hedge along the platform front. A battle was fought around the California standard and it was smashed to fragments. A woman delegate from California finally was carried up to the speakers' stand waving frantically a tattered remnant of the state emblem. Another woman, dressed in white and with a drum slung to her side was lifted to the speaker's table, and this was the only sign of a pre-arranged effort at a demonstration.

Mr. Bryan came again and again to the edge of the stand to wave to the crowd. His face was shining and the spot lights made the tears that rolled slowly over the deep furrows of his face sparkle like jewels. He was moved deeply and showed it by his eyes which turned toward that silent, sitting group of delegates which yielded nothing to the tide of feeling that swept down from the galleries.

Colby Defended League.

It took desperate pounding of the gavel to quiet the storm. It died slowly only to swell up again. Finally after a threat that the galleries would be cleared, Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state rose to answer for the administration on the League issue.

Cool, unharmed in speech President Wilson's spokesman struck at once at the emotional qualities in the appeal Mr. Bryan had made. He dismissed the great effort of the Nebraskan on prohibition almost without notice, approached his own topic with lightness of touch that brought laughter at times and with consummate skill sought to turn aside the rush of feeling Mr. Bryan had counted upon. He also was accorded a reception and demonstration, this time with the noise and cheering supported by hand and organ, but the crisis was over.

It hardly needed the effort of Senator Glass as platform committee chairman to assure the full and complete victory for the administration forces and the committee draft platform which followed. Even the crowd in the galleries appeared to expect it, for despite the tribute it had paid Mr. Bryan, a chuckle of amusement and a spatter of hand clapping greeted the volley of tremendous "noes" which sent the Bryan plank to defeat.

The vote on the dry plank was overwhelming, a roll call having been demanded by Mr. Bryan, and it went down with almost three to one against it. In the succeeding votes on his proposals, the thunder of the negative almost blotted from memory the fact that a scattering, feeble murmur of ayes had preceded it in every case.

GRAND DETOUR PLOW & WHEEL CO. IS FORMED

LITTLE BOY IS NEAR DEATH UNDER WHEELS OF AUTO THIS MORN

Lavond Vorhis Coasted Under Clinton Judd's Automobile

Lavond Vorhis, of 315 Ottawa avenue, little son of Milo Vorhis, was near death at 9:15 this morning when his coaster wagon rolled in front of an automobile at the corner of Ottawa avenue and First street. The lad fortunately escaped with only minor cuts and bruises and a damaged wagon.

Lavond and his little friend, John Prescott, son of Mrs. Anna G. Prescott, 321 Ottawa avenue, were coasting down the Ottawa avenue hill toward the river, each with his own little wagon. As Clinton Judd of this city drove his car east on First street and reached the intersection, the boys coasted in front of the automobile. The Prescott boy was far enough in the lead to escape the car's wheels but the Vorhis youngster's wagon rolled directly in front of the car.

Driving Slowly.

No doubt the boy's life was saved through the fact that Mr. Judd was driving slowly and had perfect control of his car, for the machine was nearly stopped when it struck the wagon. The wagon was thrown over and the boy dumped onto the pavement. His knees were slightly lacerated and his side brushed by the impact of the car, but the damage to his wagon was his chief concern.

The Vorhis boy said that he knew it was his fault and that the car was going very slowly. Mr. Judd told the boy to get his wagon fixed up and he would pay him for it.

FIRST BREAKS WENT TO COX.

COX

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Auditorium, San Francisco, July 3.

The first big break in the solid delegations came in the convention today when the New York delegation of 90 swung away from Governor Smith and gave 68 votes to Cox, 16 to McAdoo and scattered its other votes.

The delegations working against McAdoo kicked up a great demonstration and the standards of New Jersey, Indiana, Mississippi, Kentucky, Ohio and Maryland joined. It was the first demonstration of a slide to anybody.

New Jersey also broke to Cox throwing him 25 votes from the block that had been cast solidly for Edwards. It threw the convention hall into a tumult.

"He'll beat Harding in Ohio," was the cry that rang through the hall. Three of New Jersey's vote went to McAdoo.

Auditorium, San Francisco, July 3.—Little progress had been made toward a nomination for president on the sixth ballot taken today. McAdoo, Palmer and Cox leading in that order.

After the sixth ballot the delegates got a welcomed chance to rest their legs while the organ played and a tenor sang, "Dear Old Pal of Mine."

The reason for the pleasant recess was to give several delegations an opportunity to caucus and to decide what they would do on the seventh ballot. During the calling of the seventh ballot the New York delegation caused and a big break to Cox from that state was forecasted.

McAdoo Made Gains.

McAdoo led the gains on the first ballot of the day—but the predicted slide to him failed to materialize. Most of the original votes stood fast. The unofficial for the three leaders was McAdoo, 323 1/2; Cox, 177; Palmer, 252 1/2.

Unofficial McAdoo gain was 34 1/2. Cox gain 18; and Palmer showed loss of 1 1/2.

North Carolina furnished the first break to McAdoo and delegates swinging from Senator Simmons. The change was expected.

The chiefs of the McAdoo, Palmer and Cox forces conferred constantly throughout the night and during the early morning almost up to the hour of the meeting of the convention. At 9:30 o'clock the hour of reconvening the emptiness of the convention hall reflected the sleeplessness of the night for leaders and delegates for all were slow in arriving, despite that it was the last day of the convention, if plans did not miscarry and every one was trying to speed up it was a slow start.

The band and organ filled in during the wait and the favorite air for the band seemed to be "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles." Every one of the enthusiasts seemed to feel that the air was particularly appropriate for the other fellows. There certainly was a crop of bubbles being blown in the convention for somebody but nobody was wise enough to forecast whose bubbles were going to be burst today.

There was conference after conference on the floor as leaders and delegates came in but they apparently were fruitless, and to all outward evidences the convention stood exactly where it did at the close of the second ballot last night, there was not a man on the floor who could show any evidence to support his prediction of what was going to happen today.

At 9:45 o'clock Chairman Robinson was on the platform with others of the convention managers and most of the delegates' spaces were filled.

The total of the last ballot of yesterday was:

McAdoo, 289; Palmer, 264; Cox, 159, with no others figuring prominently.

Two Ballots Last Night.

Two ballots were taken before adjournment last night without any candidate receiving any more than about a third of the requisite two-thirds votes to nominate, but as the delegates assembled for what is expected to be the final session of the convention predictions were made that nomination would come without a protracted struggle.

Opposition to McAdoo.

Friends of Attorney General Palmer and supporters of Governor Cox took into careful account the reported strength of McAdoo, but expressed no fear that he could win the nomination in the face of the strong opposition of some of the party leaders. The Palmer and Cox men as they entered the convention would concede nothing but claimed they would pick up many delegates from the scattered candidates who are expected to vanish rapidly. McAdoo men admitted their candidate had opposition of other leaders but pointed out that it was well organized and therefore not ineffective in holding down what they call the constantly gathering strength of

The park board will make no improvements on the island at this time but is pleased to obtain possession of it in order that it will be prevented from falling into the hands of owners who might destroy its beauty or use it for purposes that are objectionable.

Mr. Watson is to be commended upon his public spirit and the city is greatly indebted to him.

Federal Mediators Making Efforts to Settle Mine Strike

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Williamson, W. Va., July 3.—Interests in the strike of Mingo county, West Virginia and Pike county, Kentucky, coal miners, called by the United Mine Workers last Wednesday, today centered about efforts of federal mediators to settle the controversy. Operators, in a statement last night, refused to submit the case to the department of labor representatives.

They said that as union recognition was a question at issue, there was no middle ground, as they did not intend to recognize the organization.

The families of many of the striking miners, recently evicted from company houses, are quartered in tents throughout the Tug River Valley. The special grand jury investigating the recent shooting at Matewan, during which seven private detectives, the mayor, a miner and a boy were killed, continues its daily sessions here.

The Keyes-Ahrens Furniture company's truck, which had been left standing on Ottawa avenue near the Elks' club, rolled down and across the street at noon today when its brakes slipped, and climbed the curb near the rear entrance to The Evening Telegraph office. An iron post and chain, part of the ornamental fence at the side of The Telegraph office stopped the big machine and prevented it plunging into the airway. The post was broken off.

Corn Market Shows New Declines Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 3.—Liquidating sales on the part of tired-out longs brought about sharp new declines today in the corn market. Favorable weather conditions together with prospects of continued liberal receipts made bearish sentiment paramount. Opening prices were followed by a moderate reaction and then a break to much under initial figures.

Oats sympathized with the weakness of corn. After opening 1/4 to 3/8 off the market hardened somewhat and then sagged again.

Provisions recovered a little from yesterday's acute depression.

July was especially weak and at one time was off nearly 7 cents, selling for the first time this season at a discount under September. The close was nervous.

Weekly Grain Review.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 3.—Enlarged receipts with ideal conditions to benefit growing corn have done a good deal to make prices of corn this week average lower. Compared with a week ago, quotations this morning varied from 7 1/2 decline to an advance of 2 1/2. Oats showed a setback of 2 1/2 cents to 5 cents. In provisions there were losses ranging from $1.52 to 4.77.

Wide spread timely rains which dispelled fear of hot wave damage were of special effect in forcing the corn market to turn against the bulls. Prior to this rains the fact that receipts had become much more liberal than of late was apparently insufficient to check the continued advance of prices. Fear of disaster to the oats crop was prevalent and there was also talk of possible development of black rust in spring wheat. Later, however, optimism was general regarding all the cereals and it was said that corn in particular would be favored by the high temperatures which had followed a generous supply of moisture.

Oats quickly reflected the breaking of the drought.

Unusually sharp descents in the value of provisions followed the monthly warehouse statement of stocks on hand. The increase shown was the heaviest ever known for this part of the season.

Look for Relief in Freight Situation

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 3.—If the car situation can be held so that conditions do not become any worse, it is believed by rail officials that in ten days a material improvement will be shown in the western territory. The commission's order sending 25,000 empty grain cars from the east to the west is in process of execution, but because of slow movement results are not yet in evidence.

C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central railroad, back from New York said today that the roads will co-operate in every way to expedite the movement of all freight.

American Legion in Illinois Has Growth

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., July 2.—Membership in the American Legion in Illinois has increased more than four fold in the past year, it will be reported to the next convention of the Legion in Illinois, which takes place in Chicago September 2 and 3.

At the time of the first convention, at Peoria in 1919, there were 209 posts in that state and membership stood around 15,000. Since that time the posts have increased to 650 and the membership has gone up to 75,000. Illinois' remarkable growth is attested by the fact that at the last national convention of the legion the state stood 22nd in membership while now it tops the list.

The Illinois plan of organization which has much to do with these results has been much commended within Legion circles, it is reported. The program of the Legion in the state for the coming year, together with the election of officers, will be taken up at the September convention. It will be held in the Medina Temple.

Cedar Rapids Man is Owner of Grocery

Frank Benson yesterday afternoon disposed of the grocery stock and fixtures purchased recently by him, of George Downing, to Phil Leipsch, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The new owner spent yesterday afternoon in the city closing up the deal, going to his home last night to return again Tuesday.

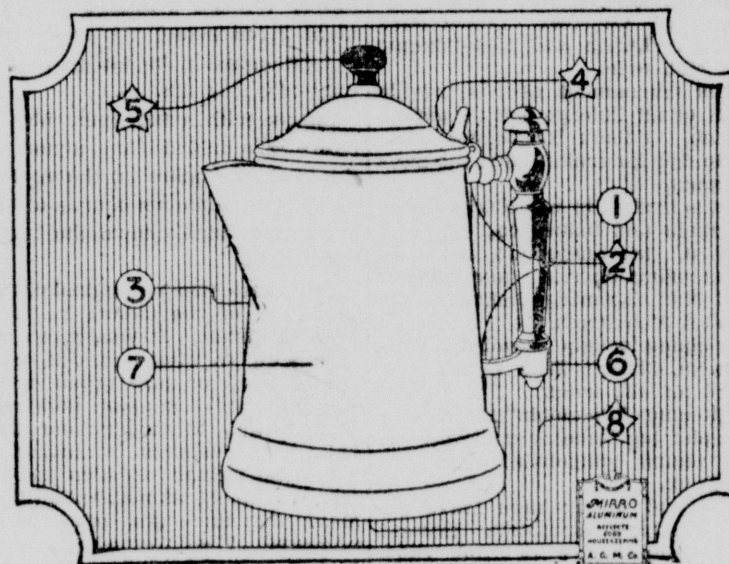

Mr. Leipsch operates a chain of ten stores in Iowa, having eight grocery stores and two clothing shops. He will not come to Dixon to take immediate charge of the business at this time. D. J. Denny, who has been engaged in the grocery business in Dixon for 35 years and with the Downing force for 12 years, will have complete charge of the Dixon store. The business will be conducted along the cash and carry basis with a 10 per cent discount.

MIRRO ALUMINUM Coffee Pot

Beauty truly goes hand in hand with utility in this Mirro Aluminum Coffee Pot. Because of its graceful design and rich, silvery finish, it is uncommonly pleasing to look upon; yet nothing of convenience or durability has been sacrificed.

Like all Mirro Aluminum utensils, this Coffee Pot will last for many, many years. And note the eight splendid features of convenience:

(1) The sure-grip, ebonized, detachable handle which insures comfortable handling and easy pouring. (2) Handle sockets are welded on, as are also (3), the spout, and (4), the combination hinge and cover tipper.

(5) The rivetless, no-burn, ebonized knob. This, with the other star features belongs exclusively to Mirro.

(6) Flame guard protects handle when the pot is on the stove. (7) The famous Mirro finish. (8) The well-known Mirro trade-mark stamped into the bottom of every Mirro utensil, and your guarantee of excellence throughout.

Our showing of Mirro Aluminum includes many other utensils of interest to women who believe in better kitchen equipment. They find Mirro really moderate in price.

PAYING THE FIDDLER

The secretary of the treasury calls public attention to certain leaks in the family pocketbook. He tells where money goes when it isn't spent for necessities or put away for the rainy day.

These figures were gathered by treasury experts from tax returns and other sources of information, and cover the period of one year.

Here they are:
Chewing gum.....$ 50,000,000
Candy.....1,000,000,000
Cigaretts.....800,000,000
Soft drinks, including ice cream and soda.....350,000,000
Perfumery and cosmetics.....750,000,000
Cigars.....510,000,000
Tobacco and snuff.....800,000,000
Furs.....300,000,000
Carpets and luxurious clothing.....1,500,000,000
Automobiles and parts.....2,000,000,000
Toilet Soaps.....400,000,000
Pianos, organs and phonographs.....250,000,000
So went eight billion, seven hundred and ten million dollars!

Averaging that up among some 25 million families in the United States and you have a per-family expenditure upon luxuries of $348, or nearly $7 a week.

And, don't forget this, the labor and capital employed producing these luxuries might otherwise have been turning out necessities, clothes, fuel, shoes, houses, food. In other words, the nation might have had more bread
if it had had less cake.

And, as is always the case, the dancer is paying the fiddler. In this instance the luxury-consumer is paying a higher price for his necessities because he is abnormally consuming luxuries.

It's all right for people to enjoy taking cold baths if they want to do it. Only, we don't want them to get so enthusiastic about it that they try to make it compulsory for everybody else.

HOW TO EAT

When one sits down to a meal he should not be restricted or harassed in any way, for just as a singer will be unable to sing well when not in the humor for doing so, will nutrition fail to progress satisfactorily when we are not well disposed for it. When a man eats he is satisfying a craving, that of hunger; and just as is the case in all other impulses, he must, when eating, devote his entire attention to it. In a measure, eating is a sort of religious procedure, upon which depends the health and progress of mankind.

This was well known to the ancients, and they invested the act of eating with a sort of sanctity, as was also the case in the accomplishment of the other impulses of life, pertain-

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

CHICK CHICKAREE.
Tingaling did as Oscar Owl suggested and asked Rustie Red-Squirrel why he didn't pay half the rent when he lived in Oscar's flat nights while Oscar was out hunting.
Rustie laughed his merry little laugh and chattered awhile to himself before he answered. This is what he kept saying over and over: "No, I won't! Oh, yes, I will! No, I'd better not! Yes, I guess I ought to."
Finally he said, "I've a secret, and

I wasn't going to tell it but I've decided you ought to know, so here it is:
You see, I'm two people!"
"Two!" shouted everybody, and Oscar Owl boomed, "Hear, hear! Mr. landlord, you'd better charge him two rents then."
But Rustie went on quickly: "Will you look in your big book, Mr. Ting-aling, and get the address of Chick Chickaree?"
"Certainly," said Tingaling obligingly, and he ran his sharp lead pencil down the capital C's until he found the place. "Here it is," he exclaimed.
"Chick Chickaree—Spruce-Tree Subway—rent ten pine cones per month.
All paid up!"
"Well," nodded Rustie modestly but ungrammatically, "that's me!"
"You!" shouted everybody again.
"I'm h'm," nodded Rustie or Chick,
as we shall call him now. "I live under the Spruce-tree. It can't really live here at all, although I come up

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

EVER DARNING HAS ITS DELIGHTS—AFTER THAT MEX-ICAN EXPERIENCE.
"Bob, darling! You don't know how I've longed to be at home where nothing exciting can possibly disturb me!" I said in my most confiding tone when we were seated at our own dinner table a few hours after Bob had read the startling letter from his father.
"Why, dearest! You can't guess how I've dreamed about ordering the meals you like best! How I've planned to cook them, if necessary. And I'm going to wash our silk stockings!
You know that lots of women who are not expected to do it just have to wash their fine hosiery nowadays, if they want it to last. They darn it, too! It costs so much—and you ought to see the mess the average laundress can make of a new pair of silk socks
the very first time—"

I stopped abruptly for my husband didn't seem amused by my chatter as I hoped he would be. However he asked a question which encouraged me to chatter on:
"Even darning has its delights—
after Mexico?"
"Darning is the grandest dissipation
—after that old hacienda," I confessed. "I'm proud to own that I enjoy it tremendously. But it appears to me that the simple joys of domesticity are not for us Lormiers. No sooner do you and I settle down beside our hearth than adventure pursues us over our own threshold! Is some member of this family going to keep things stirred up for the others, forever and forever?"

"A little monotony would feel mighty good just now, I admit, but I guess Dad isn't going to let us rest for quite a while. Did you notice something—something ominous in his letter, Jane?"
"You mean the sentence which says that Certels is going to meet a bunch of Russian financiers in Honolulu?"
"A communion of German and Russian intrigues has a particularly sinister angle just now?" I suggested.
"It might threaten the peace of the world," replied my husband solemnly.

"I wouldn't conclude from the papers that there is any too much peace at stake today. Listen to these headlines:
"All-Socialist Rule for Germany!"
"Revolt Fanned in Dublin!"
"Foch Asks for Allied Troops!"
"Polish Offensive in Baltic!"
"Starvation and Typhus in Central Europe!"
"German Reds Drive for Holland Foodstuffs!"
"And the Letts and Esths prepare for war; and the Reds attempt to make Alaska secede; and there's a big strike in Spain; and political unrest stirs Egypt and makes India seethe;
and Mr. Morgenthau has been nominated by the president for ambassador to Mexico because an experienced diplomat is required for that difficult problem; and the landlords and renters raised a near-riot at a hearing before a committee of New York legislators! Yes, it's all in one paper, Bob! I certainly like a lot of excitement and I certainly can get all I require simply by reading the world's best news!"

"We were speaking of peace, my love. I'd like to make a point, if you'll let me talk half a minute!"
I threw him a kiss with my permission.
"Jane you and I and all sane persons have got to root for peace until it arrives. Yes, dear love, even little you must spread the spirit of it. You can't be neutral nor indifferent. You either build or tear down. I think that the profiteering landlord and the laundress who deliberately ruins your stockings are both promoting real riots and destroying the peace of the world quite as much as Certels and the Russian conspirators. It's so stupid, too. Whoever thinks he can harm society without harming himself is a fool!"

(To Be Continued.)

Such is Life

BY O. B. JOYFUL

All of the fun has been taken out
of electing a president.
Used to be as many thrills, as much sport as good a time picking a new tenant for the White House as in watching a circus parade, or going to a picnic.

Ask grandpa to tell you about the good old days when he helped his father elect a president. He'll tell you how every boy in the village lined up on one of two sides, and how a Democratic boy, wouldn't speak to a Republican boy, and vice versa;
and sometimes it was even worse than that, and there'd be regular bat-ties between 'em.

The grown-ups put tall poles on the Square, one for each party, with names of candidates on the banners.
And always some rascal Republican would haul a dead rooster up the Democratic flagpole, and then cut the rope, so's they couldn't get it down.
And a rascal Democrat would tie a piece of crepe to the Republican pole
and cut the rope.
Then the men would sit round the barber shop and the general store and figure out ways of getting the rooster down (if they were Democrats) or getting the crepe down (if they were Republicans.)

And every few nights there'd be torchlight processions, and if your pa belonged to that party you carried a torch and got all greasy and maybe burned your eyebrows, and if your pa belonged to the other party you threw brickbats at the parade.

Oh, Boys, That Was The Life!

And you were a cute little cap and your candidates' name on it, and had to fight every 30 minutes to keep a guy of the other party from pulling the names off your cap.

And at night you'd go with pa to the speaking and hear how the country would go to the dogs if the other side won and how everything would be perfectly lovely if your side won.
You naturally took your politics from dad. You was what father was and he was what grandfather was and if any of you ever changed parties the neighbors called you a turn-coat, which was about as bad a thing as they could say of a fellow in those days of long ago.

Election years don't count for much any more. Gee whiz, a fellow hardly ever knows when they are electing a president! Not until next winter when he has to go to school and read it out of the old history book.

They sure have taken the joy out
of electing a president.

HORNSBY MADE HIS HUNDRETH BINGLE AND HELD HIS LEAD

Sisler Had Nice Start in American League Hitters' Race

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 3.—Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, banged out his 100th hit of the season in Wednesday's game against Cincinnati, the first player in the National league to touch the century mark. Hornsby slipped slightly in his batting, but continues to hold a comfortable lead among the regulars who have participated in 35 or more games, according to averages released today, and which include games of Wednesday. The St. Louis crack is topping the hitters with an average of .350, which was made in 65 games in which he was at bat 263 times. His total base mark of .157 is the highest in the league and includes nineteen doubles, ten triples and six homers. In addition to this record the St. Louis favorite is sharing run-scoring honors with Max Flack, of Chicago. Each has registered 46 times.

Cy Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, slammed out another homer which gave him eight, and Robert, Chicago, who was sharing honors with Hornsby last week as runner-up to the elongated outfielder, also belted a circuit drive, breaking the tie with the St. Louisian and placing himself one behind Williams.

The catchers and pitchers seem unable to stop Max Carey, the fleet-footed Pittsburgher, on the paths. He is showing the way to the base stealers with 25 thefts.

Other leading batters:
E. Smith, New York, .364.
Nicholson, Pittsburgh, .333.
Robertson, Chicago, .332.
Daubert, Cincinnati, .325.
Williams, Philadelphia, .325.
Cruise, Boston, .322.
Roush, Cincinnati, .321.
Kelly, New York, .314.
Myers, Brooklyn, .313.
Flack, Chicago, .313.

American League.
The batting of "Eabe" Ruth, the home-run king of the New York club, continues to be the chief topic in the American league. The big southpaw slugger bagged a brace of homers in the doubleheader with Philadelphia last Wednesday which gave him a total of 24, only five behind the world's record which he made last year. In addition to cracking out home runs, Ruth is steadily climbing to the top among the batters of the league who have participated in 35 or more games. The big fellow is hitting .374, just twenty points behind Tris Speaker of Cleveland and Joe Jackson, of Chicago, who are sharing the honor of runners-up to George Sisler, the St. Louis star, who is batting .413. Speaker and Jackson are hitting .394.

Ruth, besides his batting prowess is out for other honors. He has tied Speaker, the Cleveland manager, in number of runs scored. Each has registered sixty-three times.

Rice, of Washington, pilfered five bases in the past week and is far out in front among the base stealers with 30 thefts. His nearest rival is Roth, a teammate who has stolen 19 bases.

Other leading batters:
Weaver, Chicago, .356.
Milan, Washington, .356.
Johnston, Cleveland, .353.
Rice, Washington, .350.
Felsch, Chicago, .339.
Judge, Washington, .333.
Gedeon, St. Louis, .332.
E. Collins, Chicago, .331.

"PUSSYFOOT" WILL BE FEATURE OF R. R. ASSEMBLY AUG. 8

Noted Dry Worker Will Deliver Address at Chautauqua Here

"Pussyfoot" Johnson, noted Anti-Saloon worker who recently returned from England where he lost an eye when he was hazed by British students during his dry campaign in that country, will be the feature speaker at the Rock River Assembly in this city Sunday, August 8. He will deliver an address during the afternoon session on that day.

Johnson, wearing a tie of purest grape juice hue, told the members of the Anti-Saloon league in Chicago this week just what he could perceive through his glass right eye.

"I see the beginning of a new day," he announced, "the birthday of a new hope, a time when no mother in the whole world will have to sit up nights worrying about the grog shops getting her boy."

Pussyfoot saw, in fact, from the moment when, having been introduced, he assailed a water glass with the singleness of purpose of an oldtime "boquaffing" 4 per cent, he was seeing things. And then, lost his hearers might not think he was sufficiently fortified with vision, he informed them that another glass eye was reposing in his suitcase down at the hotel.

Fond of Aqua Pura.

To get back to that water:

"I like it," confessed "Pussyfoot." "Years ago I fractured a bone in my neck while diving. So, you see, I'm so fond of the stuff I was even willing to break my neck to get into it."

Consequently, "Pussyfoot" declared he is out to spread the gospel of aqua pura throughout the globe. Brotian is to be the next victim.

"England is our mother country, and I feel that we ought to look out for our parent in her old age," was "Pussyfoot's" filial assertion. "Meanwhile I expect most of Scotland to vote itself dry in November."

He took another draught of water and emigrated to India, where, he says, "the satanic liquor traffic," all "that which has cursed the human race since the day of Noah" is raising considerable Cain among some 315,000, 000 Hindoos. He looks for its vanquishing, under the leadership of the Anti-Saloon League at an early date.

GULBRANSEN Player-Piano

Gulbransen Trade Mark

You Can Play the Gulbransen Better Than You Ever Could Have Played by Hand

That is true of nearly everybody. Because playing the piano is a two-sided art. The mechanical art of "reading" and "fingering"—and the mental art of playing the music interestingly.

One has no connection with the other—except that notes must be struck by some means, before we consider how they shall sound. In fact, until correct striking of notes is accomplished—whether by hand or by mechanism—only then does interesting music become a possibility.

The Gulbransen starts you off at the point in musical education where perfect command of the piano is accomplished. It strikes the right notes unfaillingly. And it enables you to play them in any desired style of shading, phrasing or rhythm. It offers every degree of tone value. It gives you full control of all of these.

Now then, if you enjoy music, you have the chance to make music—with equal enjoyment to those who listen. If you habitually hum or whistle, or keep time to a good march or dance, you are naturally musical. You will play the Gulbransen interestingly and with improving taste.

This is true of the Gulbransen because its exquisite "pedal-touch" gives you real freedom in producing musical effects—as much as though you played by hand. You will have increasing interest in playing with expression. You will be in fact what you are now at heart—A musician.

Do not gain an impression that one finds out LITTLE furniture on exhibition here—there are ACRES of it and in a range from the very ordinary to the FINEST possible to even imagine—one can wander through FIELDS of furniture (in these mammoth buildings) so exquisite—so artistic and so delightfully charming that meal time is passed without thought in the joy of looking and choosing—DREAMING however has NO part in the play going on here—the shrewdest—keenest buyers of the world are here and business IS BUSINESS—there is an atmosphere of optimism very noticeable too—most everyone reports big business and excellent prospects for future if only goods and shipments may be assured—a gentleman from California was one of the most confident I have met—he is about 65 to 68 years of age and has been visiting the Grand Rapids market for more than twenty years—several buyers from Massachusetts—some of whom I have met here in the past—also are hard at work and placing a good many orders—the Gawga & Kaintuk and Virginia folk are here as well as quite a sprinkling from Canada and Texas and MOST EVERY place you can imagine.

Our friend Jno. Moyer was here too—we roomed together at one of the excellent hotels and paired off also on the social and after business hours—I tried my best to keep him longer but as a big banquet is on at Chicago today I had to regretfully watch Jno. hot-footing it for a midnight express bound for the windy city.

Am buying quite a bit and trying in every way possible to secure EARLY shipments of orders we placed at last January and last July markets—many of which are just partially unfilled and in some cases yet untouched—Now as to the price situation; NO one KNOWS but the general impression seems to prevail that while there have been in quite a number of lines some recent small advances, nothing much additional is looked for during the next 30 to 60 days—As to what may come after that and up to the January market in the way of advances no one seems very clear but a general conviction is evident that there will be NO decrease.

Michigan IS a fine state—here's wonderful fruit and SUCH things but I DO feel proud of old Illinois—her farms—and her farmers for the way they handle farming generally—and every time I look out of a car window I just think "My—how I'd like some of your farmers to drop down in old Northern Illinois and see the corn fields and things generally."

Respectfully,

CHAS. E. KEYES.

AUTO TALK

Waiting for a cop, while you know you're violating a traffic ordinance, may be easy in any city except Los Angeles. There, any passerby may bring you to your doom. The mayor has organized a vigilance committee to watch for traffic law breakers. So be careful when passing through Los Angeles.

Watch the New Car.

The new car should be watched closely and should be gone over after every trip. Every nut and bolt should be kept tight. The engine parts are most important for a defect here will result in misfiring and poor carburetion. Inspections should be made frequently for the first 1,000 miles, until the car will have worn in somewhat.

Through the suggestion of a lawyer, motorists of Rochester, N. Y., have started a movement to help street car travelers and relieve the jams morning and evening. "Why wait? Ride with us," reads a sign on the windshield of each car whose driver has joined the movement—which is an invitation for waiting pedestrians to hop in and ride downtown. The lawyer who started this is John J. McInerney, counsel for the Rochester Auto club.

Keep Foot Off Clutch.

Try keeping your foot off the clutch and get into the habit of automatically raising it there only when necessary. The weight of the foot on the clutch has a tendency to make the clutch slip. Slipping is a waste of power and causes friction which wears away the contact surfaces.

Beware Rusty Rims.

Since iron rust eats into canvas quickly, rims should be examined and kept clean at all times. Rust should be removed by sandpapering, after which it should be coated with graphite or thin shellac. Stove polish will do.

Autogobble racing is poisonous. The fatigue of a grueling, nerve-wrecking race is so overwhelming that it causes poison—fatigue poison, physicians call it.

Gaston Chevrolet, who won the recent 500-mile international sweepstakes at Indianapolis, was so far gone by the action of this poison, that he could not get out of his car at the finish of the race. He had to be helped to his garage.

From a fresh, alert, energetic chap before the race, Chevrolet finished a gaunt, haggard-looking individual, his eyes almost lifeless and the muscles of his legs and forearms cramped and knotted. The strain of clutching the wheel for nearly six hours, never relaxing his hold, and keeping his eyes glued to the white road ahead of him had caused intense physical fatigue. This, physicians say, was as disastrous to him as though he had taken a dose of arsenic or carbolic acid. An overdose would have been fatal.

"The extreme exhaustion suffered by Chevrolet," declares Dr. Clyde Leeper, of Akron, O., "caused certain chemical changes to create poisonous decomposition in the muscles of his body—the production and accumulation of waste substances such as carbon dioxide and lactic acid. In large quantities these are typical fatigue poisons."

"Chevrolet after the race had the 'dead' eye which we found so often among wounded men overseas, among men who had endured long suffering from wounds and exhaustion and men who had become shellshock victims. Chevrolet's extreme fatigue was equivalent to a severe shock to the complete nervous system—as if he had been hurled forty or fifty feet in an explosion and severely stunned. Bicycle riders, marathon runners and long distance swimmers suffer similar fatigue. They all have the 'dead' eye after the acid test of endurance."

Chevrolet's muscles were so cramped his fingers had to be pried loose from the steering wheel. Huge knots in the muscles of his forearms had to be massaged and rubbed down. And chemical action in his body, created by the extreme exertion and strain, caused him to lose several pounds during the race.

Other drivers suffer similar fatigue, many in shorter races. The faster the speed maintained, the more severe the physical strain. At Beverly Hills when Art Klein drove the 50-mile speed classic at the rate of 111.3 miles per hour, his fingers were cramped to the steering wheel so tightly they had to be pried off. Muscles of his forearms were so bulged and knotted that his jersey sweater had to be cut from them.

WHO SAID 'PLEASURE' ASK AUTO DEALERS

New York, July 3.—That automobiles should be classed as "pleasure cars" is more than local dealers here can tolerate. They voice their indignation at the government's classification, in their bulletin, in the following terms:

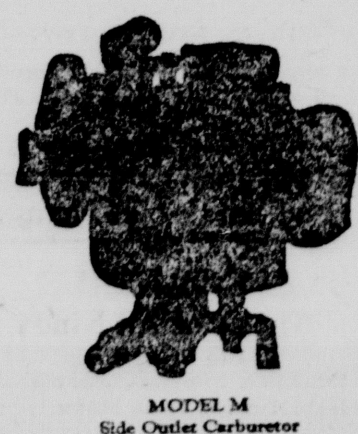

"Once more it is necessary to bring to the attention of a few that the word 'pleasure' does not fit in as an adjective. It created havoc in many minds during the war, and only recently a Washington committee insisted on classifying the automobile business with silk shirts, cosmetics, imported perfumes, etc. An automobile compared to a sweet smell for usefulness!"

"But the automobile representatives came back with an unanswerable argument—to stop every automobile in the United States from running for a period of ten days—a test that immediately flattened all further thoughts along that line."

"The more we hammer home the utilitarian purposes of our products, the further we convince the public of a proper realization of their necessity."

"Stop that word pleasure!"

SOLD ALCOHOL GO TO JAIL.

New York, July 2.—Prison sentences totalling 59 months and fines aggregating $85,000 were given three officers of the Gramatan Hair Tonic Co. and the Herba Product Co. by Federal Judge Grubb here today for violation of the Volstead and Internal revenue acts.

The defendants were charged with having sold for beverage purposes part of 125,000 gallons of high grade alcohol withdrawn from warehouses supposedly for manufacturing purposes.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home, is messy and troublesome. At a little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and lustrous.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says we must make kidneys clean the blood and pimples disappear.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from acids, poisons and impurities which are generated in the blood, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

If we could see ourselves as others see us we probably would start for the oculists.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

GARDEN HOSE PLAYS PART IN ARREST.

London.—When Edward Reynolds pointed a shotgun from his second-floor window and defied arrest, Constable Seabridge climbed a ladder and played a garden hose on his quarry until Reynolds gave up.

OH, DEAR! MY BACK!

Merciful Heavens, how my back hurts in the morning! It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking

"Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, get Dr. Pierce's Anuric, it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

ELKHART, IND.—"When I started to take Anuric the kidney excretion was thick and cloudy, sometimes I was disturbed fifteen times in one night. I am advanced in years and quite timid about taking advertised remedies, but I felt perfectly safe in taking Anuric because I had been so greatly helped by Dr. Pierce's other remedies. I took one package and my rest at night is unbroken, and consequently my general health is greatly improved."—MRS. S. J. ANDERSON, 16, 700 Marion Street.
